Sell at the manufacturers' RSP or risk losing your customers

- Customers come to your store because cigarettes and tobacco price-marked packs have always been the same price as in the supermarkets.
- These same customers come to your store every day and buy newspapers, drinks, confectionery and groceries with their cigarettes.
- Now that price-marked packs are no longer available, don't be tempted to price your cigarettes higher than the recommended selling price in order to increase your margin.
- Pricing higher than the recommended selling price will make you uncompetitive and you risk losing add-on sales for newspapers, drinks, confectionery and groceries.
